It reflects
NY, is a great and fascinating city. ~~Among~~ its habitants ~~read~~ the cultures of all the world. One very important group is the ~~Hispanics~~, that form a great part of the public. The ~~Hispanic~~ culture is in all parts of this city - in its newspapers, its TV programs, its restaurantes and also in its museums and schools. There are Hispanics in the entire city. Never the less, the neighborhood in which you'll find the bigger concentration of them is called El Barrio.

On a certain day he spent some time at a fiest. The reason for the hapiness was the inauguration of a new civic & social center for the Hispanic community. The center was called the Betances House in honor of the great ~~Puerto~~ Puertorican patriot Ramon Betances. Purpose to encourage the welfare of the habitants of the Barrio by means of education + social services. to entertain th , there are

It arrived @ the hour to dedicate the center and various officials of the govt made speeches. Finally it was Alberto Gomez's turn to speak. He was the ~~mea~~ richest merchant of the Barrio, and ~~there~~ he contributed a great part of the funds for the construction of the center. He began ~~giving~~ thanking to all of those who ~~were~~ helped to realize the project. He explained how this was ~~created~~ to serve the entire community, and added that he wanted to share with the young present something that he had learned ~~there~~ was with time ago ~~that~~ said to them.
